

Somerset Farms Presents
an Eventing Clinic with
Jean Moyer
Feb. 24-26

Kick off the season with coach extraordinaire Jean Moyer and a weekend of dressage and stadium. (Bring your cross-country boots just in case: On the off chance Silo Farms' cross country course isn't covered in snow, we'll jump there Sunday.)

Moyer is a nationally-known eventing trainer who served as the Area VII Young Rider coach for a dozen years, with medal-winning teams including the NARYC CCI team gold in 1998. She assisted Jim Wofford with coaching the Canadian Olympic team and has worked with Bruce Davidson, Buck Davidson, Tiffany Loudon, Peter Gray, John Elliot, and Susie Petman Elliot. She's worked with eventing's biggest names, but Moyer's passion for teaching shines through for students at all levels of the sport.

From the USEA article "Jean Moyer Makes Rock Stars":

"Few clinic experiences are as valuable as working with Jean Moyer, one of eventing's long time 'super-clinicians.'" Read more at
